703: Drawing for Beginners, Session 1

Taught by Janice Itzel, Ages 18+

$83 Members/$91 Non-members

Students develop the skills needed to depict three-dimensional subjects in two-dimensional drawings. This requires not only correct use of materials but also learning how to see correctly. Learn to draw "blind", the difference between seeing and knowing, understanding negative space, foreshortening, light, depth, and more.

April 10, 1 Sunday, 10am-4pm

704: Intro to Clay Monoprinting

Taught by Meredith Wakefield, Ages 18+

$91 Members/$100 Non-Members

Learn Mitch Lyon's unique printmaking process that changed the way clay could be used. After adding colored slip and textures to your slab of clay, the fun begins with pulling your own clay monoprints. No clay or printmaking experience is needed. Just bring your sense of play!

April 23, 2:00-4:00pm, 1 Saturday

705: Photographing your Art

Taught by Ray Magnani, Ages 16 and up

$25 Members, $27 Non-Members

Do you make great art but struggle with sharing images of your work, either for social media, websites or for applications to art shows? Let Ray show you some easy ways to photograph your work at home using either an iphone or a digital camera. You'll explore different light sources, props you can make, light tents and more.

April 24 to May 1, 2 Sundays, 2-4pm

706: Mixed Media Design-Color & Shapes

Taught by Jimmy Leighton, Ages 16 to adult

$44 Members/$48 Non-Members

Learn color theory, working with abstract shapes and how to create interesting compositions by stepping out of our comfort zones. Get messy while exploring color theory and what makes certain shapes, relationships and characteristics more pleasing. We'll work with paint, pastels and pencils to create abstract layered art.

April 26 to May 24, 5 Tuesdays, 7-9pm

707: Drawing as Meditation Practice

Taught by Jimmy Leighton, Ages 16+

$110 Members/$121 Non-Members

Learn about observational drawing as a mental and emotional discipline rather than a series of steps you need to do and master. The purpose is to develop a deep state of focus and interest in what you are drawing to be able to enjoy your drawing. Students will work with varied still life arrangements during the class.

April 28 to May 19, 4 Thursdays, 4-5:30pm
